Summer Learning Plan

Dear Parents:

It's difficult to believe that summer is here! And while we believe that the summer months should be an opportunity for leisure and quality time spent with family, we also believe that a healthy engagement of the mind is necessary to keep the learning of the past year fresh and to help create a bridge for the new learning to come. With that said, we have asked teachers for help in creating the following summer learning plan. The reading plan will include reading one novel and to answer comprehension questions.

Incoming Ninth Grade

Reading:

The Seven Habits of Highly Effective Teens by Sean Covey

9th-Grade Summer Reading Book

Assignment: Answer the attached comprehension questions.

Incoming Tenth Grade

Reading:

Fahrenheit 451 by Ray Bradbury

10th-Grade Summer Reading Book

Assignment: Answer the attached comprehension questions and a test the first week of school.

Incoming Eleventh Grade

Reading:

Mythology by Edith Hamilton (Except for Parts Four and Part Seven)
